

FREE ATTRACTIONS FOR STATE FAIR

No Effort Spared to Make Show
This Year Eclipse All Others in Splendor.

FINE LINE OF EXHIBITS

Buildings Already Hold Many Displays—Fireworks
Each Night.

Besides putting on an agricultural and horticultural display second to none in the South, and offering prizes aggregating $50,000 in the various departments of the Virginia State Fair, the management has gone to the extreme in providing free entertainment and amusements for the spectators, and to that end has contracted for $25,000 worth of free shows. The performances to be given on two stages erected in front of the enlarged amphitheatre.

The Virginia State Fair directors considered themselves favored when they were able to sign a contract for the thrilling and sensational free act "Auto-Polo," in which four autos will be used in presenting the latest dare-devil craze. Polo is a game not well known in the South, and added to it the hazardous work of executing the finer plays of the game in dashing automobiles on the race track in front of the grandstand, and every one can get a clear view of the action. It will draw thousands of interested spectators. Auto-polo is not the only thriller among the free attractions, for there will be the exciting demons riding on a tilted platform in midair at the rate of a mile a minute. Pattee's diving girls, who won great applause for their graceful acts at last year's fair, will return to entertain the crowds.

Many Free Attractions.
The free musical acts will be of a high class. Young Blood's musical act, performed by twelve high-class musicians attractively attired, will add to the pleasures of the State Fair, while the Great Dollar Troupe of acrobats, coming from a successful five years' performance at the New York Hippodrome, will attract those who like that kind of work.

Professor Edward R. Hutchison will appear daily in balloon ascensions, and will make his famous drop with twelve parachutes. Hutchison is one of the original balloon men, and he may be expected to spring something new in the parachute leap each day of his engagement.

There will be dozens of the free attractions, and all will be presented, while Mace Gay's band of twenty-five soloists play on the stand in front of the amphitheatre. This band will also give special concerts.

As a special night attraction, the management has contracted for the greatest fireworks display known, in which the "Battle of Santiago" will be shown. Twelve great battleships will be seen in action, and the display ends with the destruction of a battleship by a submarine destroyer, giving the spectators a clear idea of the demolishing powers of the submarine and the cost of war upon the seas.

Features for Everybody.
During the six days of the Virginia State Fair, October 6-11, the people of Virginia and North Carolina will have the opportunity of attending a fair which in every department will be educational to men and women in all walks of life. The farmer and the city man alike will be interested in the latest inventions in machinery for saving labor upon the farm. The exhibits from at least fifty of the foremost counties of the State will show the products of the soil of Virginia, and convince the most skeptical that Virginia's soil is capable of producing anything grown, provided the proper attention is paid to the crop in question.

Featuring the trotting, running and pacing racing program will be several steeplechases and the old-fashioned tournament, in which knights from Virginia, Maryland, the District of Columbia and North Carolina will compete for the championship. There will be $500 in prizes awarded in the old-fashioned tournament, and the entries being received indicate that some of the best riders in this section will compete for the honors of this tournament.

Everything in Shape.
The superintendents of the various departments report the brightest outlook in the history of the fair. Every department will be complete in every particular, and the judges will have hard work in deciding the ribbon winners in the various classes of exhibits. The work of extending the grandstand is being completed. All the buildings are being renovated, and by the end of this week everything will be in readiness for the opening day.

Many of the race horses have arrived at the track, and others will come in during this week and be worked out on the local track.

With all departments working in harmony, and with but one idea in view—that of making the eighth annual Virginia State Fair eclipse any other fair in the entire South, there is every reason to assure the public that in no way will its expectations for a week of pleasure and education fail to be realized.

BIG SALES OF TOBACCO.
Record at Greensboro for Single Day
Best in History of Market.
Greensboro, N. C., September 20.—

Warehousemen here sold more tobacco to-day than has ever been sold on the local market in a single day. The total sales aggregated something like 150,000 pounds at three warehouses, at an average price of 17 cents, or $25,000 for the day's sales. This is nearly as much as was sold here the whole season two years ago. More than 200 wagons brought the tobacco to the city. The revival of the market here, which is on the edge of the tobacco growing region, is the result of hard work upon the part of merchants and business men.

GARRISON AND WOOD VISIT CAVALRY CAMP

Secretary of War and Chief of Staff of Army Review
Entire Brigade.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Winchester, Va., September 20.—Secretary of War Lindley M. Garrison and Major-General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the United States Army, arrived in Winchester to-day and were met by officers from brigade headquarters and escorted to the cavalry camp of instruction, about four miles southeast of town. Upon their arrival at the camp, the entire brigade, consisting of the Tenth, Eleventh and Fifteenth Cavalry Regiments, and the machine gun platoons, was reviewed by the Secretary of War and General Wood. Both were well pleased with the appearance of the officers and troopers. The brigade was also put through some of the new manoeuvres which, it is expected, will be ultimately adopted by the War Department for the cavalry arm of the service. They will also inspect the remount station at Front Royal.

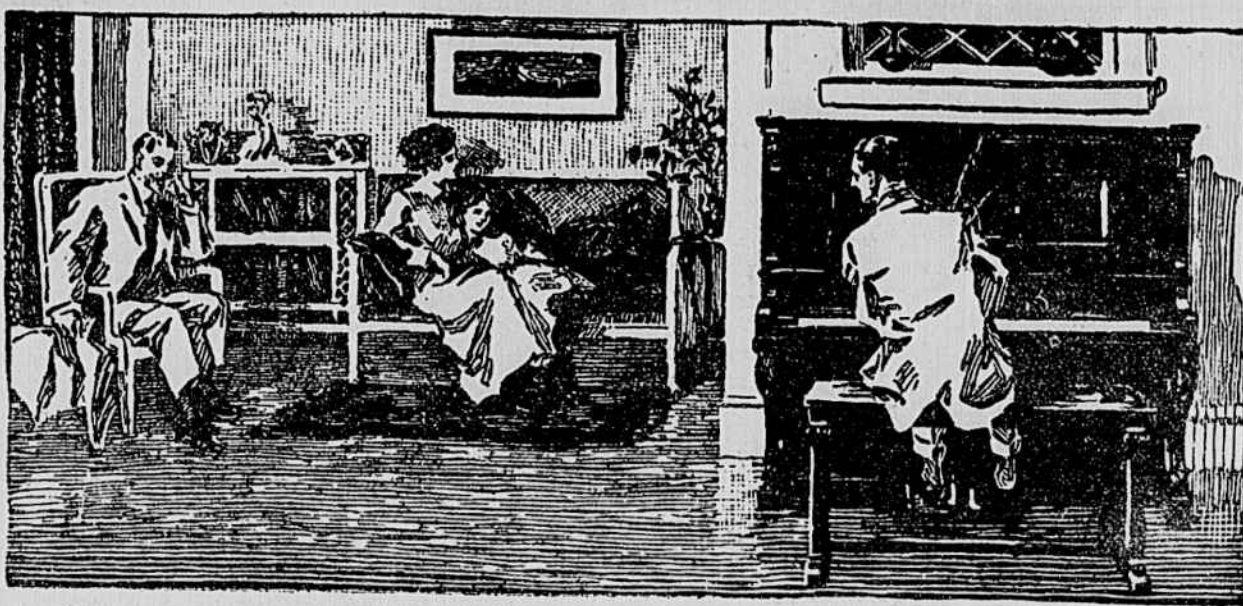

The matter of establishing a permanent army post in the immediate vicinity of Winchester, and nearer a railroad than the present instruction camp, was broached to Secretary Garrison and General Wood by some of the officers and members of the Business Men's Association, and it is understood the question was taken under advisement. It was learned here a day or two ago that the War Department had up for consideration a plan of abolishing quite a large number of the smaller army posts in various sections of the country—principally in isolated portions of the West—and concentrating the troops at large stations, at the same time taking the strategic features into consideration. One of these latter places is the town of Winchester.

It was also stated that the proximity of the remount station near Front Royal, Warren County, was a point in favor of this city. Every effort will be put forth through the Business Men's Association and other influences to have one of the large posts established in the suburbs of Winchester. There is much speculation at the big encampment that is a report current that all three regiments will be ordered to Fort Myer, at least temporarily, pending a possible adjustment of relations with Mexico. The camp here was not laid out with a view of keeping soldiers there during the late fall and early winter, else they might be ordered to remain here indefinitely, as Noah W. Solenberger, owner of the land, has indicated his willingness to let the government use the grounds as long as it desires, provided, of course, Mr. Solenberger is compensated.

Don't Neglect That Cold in the Head—

There are very many remedies on the market that are claimed to cure catarrh; but ask yourself this question: How can a blood germ disease be cured by a local treatment? It cannot; never was and never will be. You must understand that catarrh affects the mucous membrane, or the lining that coats the whole inner system, the same as the skin coats the outer system. A great many people are of the opinion that catarrh is simply a disease of the head. That is a very sad mistake. It does originate in the head; but that nasty phlegm and mucous that you hawk and spit out in the daytime you swallow at night; the food you eat assimilates with that poison that causes the food to sour, a gas arises, which causes indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn. How can you cure indigestion when it is caused from catarrh unless you remove the cause? Sometimes people imagine their heart is affected. It is not; the trouble comes from the pressure of gas crowding the heart, causing it to jump and flutter, which causes shortness of breath, dizziness, headache. Seven cases out of ten of stomach, kidney, bladder trouble, weak, run-down condition of the system is caused from catarrh, and nine cases out of ten of consumption it was catarrh at the commencement.

All these troublesome symptoms vanish like mist before the rising sun when a proper course of Quaker Herb Extract is taken, as it cures that soreness of the lining of the stomach and allows the gastric juices to flow in and make perfect the digestion. It tones up the system. Here is a report from Mr. P. P. Foster, who resides at 28 Hardin Street, Atlanta, Ga. He has suffered with catarrh of the stomach; also had a hacking cough, rising nasty chunks of phlegm and slimy mucous; bowels sore and constipated; had to take something all the time to make his liver act. His kidneys caused him much trouble, especially at night. Had a weak, run-down feeling most of the time, poor appetite, nervous. As he said: "I have tried many different remedies. Some would give me relief for a time, and then their virtue was gone. I have had more benefits from the two bottles of Quaker Herb Extract and one Oil of Balm than all the remedies I have ever used. My kidneys and bowels act just fine; my coughing is about stopped, and I am feeling better than I have in a long time and I am recommending Quaker Remedies would cure catarrh in any form, rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach and blood troubles, indigestion, constipation, and the Extract will expel all worms from man, woman or child, and I believe him."

Call to-day at Tragle's drug store, 317 East Broad Street, and obtain Quaker Herb Extract, $1.00; three for $2.50, or six for $5.00. Oil of Balm, 50c.—Advertisement.

San Diego, Cal., September 20.—Charles R. Drummond, member of a wealthy family of manufacturers, walked into the police station late last night and said he was wanted in St. Louis for bigamy.
